Haphazard vehicle parking at Chamundi foothill chokes traffic

Traffic Police had a tough time in regulating vehicular and crowd movement on roads leading to Chamundi foothill on Ashada Friday yesterday.

Mysuru, July 16 (BCT)- Despite a series of meetings headed by the Minister, political leaders and officers to ensure that the devotees coming to Chamundi Hill on Ashada Fridays and Chamundeshwari Vardhanti are not inconvenienced in any way, devotees continue to be troubled and the darshan of Goddess Chamundeshwari is proving to be an arduous task, thanks to lack of better planning.

The District Administration has banned the entry of private vehicles to the Hilltop and has asked KSRTC to provide free bus services (numbering 50) from the grounds at the Chamundi foothill apart from the regular bus service from the City Bus Stand which is not free.

Though the free bus facility is a welcome move, the good gesture is marred by the confusion and chaos created at the temporary parking lot below the Hill.

The bus journey starts near the Lalitha Mahal Palace Hotel at a vacant space on the T. Narasipur Junction, the epicentre of the chaos.

There are no basic facilities for the devotees here and shoddy arrangements have been made in the name of devotee convenience. Thousands of private vehicles, including buses, cars, tempos, bikes and scooters, are parked in the vicinity and as there is not much space here, vehicles are parked in a haphazard manner.

Make Consumer Commissions more people-friendly: MGP

Mysuru, July 16 (PM&DM)- An awareness-cum-interaction programme on effective functioning of Consumer Redressal Commissions was held at Rani Bahadur auditorium on Hunsur Road here this morning.

The programme was organised by Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) in association with B.N. Bahadur Institute of Management Studies (BIMS).

Speaking at the programme, Dr. Bhamy V. Shenoy, a former MGP President, stressed on the need for making Consumer Redressal Commissions at the district-level to work and to fire the heads and supporting staff if they do not work taking into consideration the interests of consumers.

"It is surprising that District Consumer Courts are not having proper infrastructure. The Courts cite lack of staff and supporting gadgets such as microphones, photocopy machines, internet service etc., which is disappointing to note," he pointed out.

Contending that there is nothing like a printed format for filing consumer complaints, Dr. Shenoy said that any aggrieved consumer can file complaints written on a paper, which needs to be seriously considered. Stressing on the need for setting up free legal support clinics, he alleged that at a time when Artificial Intelligence and Internet is being widely used across the world, attempts are being made to make filing of cases all the more difficult.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Novak Djokovic is unlike the archetypal Wimbledon champion. He is neither a big-server nor a net-rusher and does not slice and dice his way through points. Instead, he is peerless in how he absorbs an opponent's most devastating play, seizes crucial moments and flips the narrative within a blink of an eye. No one in living memory has anticipated, moved and defended a grass court quite like the 35-year-old Serb. On Sunday, he brought to the fore all these facets to clinch his seventh Wimbledon crown — fourth on the trot — and a 21st Grand Slam title. Admittedly, the grass at SW19 is slower and the bounce truer than earlier times, helping consummate all-courters like Djokovic. But the run of Nick Kyrgios to the final — albeit after a walk-over against an in-form but injured Nadal in the semi-final — was enough evidence that the surface still offers purchase to those willing, and able, to play traditional grass-court tennis. Kyrgios did this for a set, bouncing off the audience's energy like a showman would in a theatre. Wimbledon, in fact, has come to be his safe space, where he is still loved and not judged despite his boorish behaviour from time to time. Yet Djokovic, the ultimate diffuser, displayed patience and tactical endurance, the lack of which proved Kyrgios' undoing yet again.

Rare orange lobster found in shipment

Florida: An extremely rare orange lobster was spared the dinner plate at a Red Lobster restaurant in Florida and will have a new permanent home at an aquarium.

Ripley's Aquarium in Myrtle Beach, S.C., said it was contacted by managers at the Red Lobster after workers discovered the orange lobster in a shipment. The lobster's orange colouring is believed to be from a mutation that occurs only in one out of 30 million lobsters.

The unusual crustacean was named Cheddar in honour of Red Lobster's cheddar bay biscuits. "A group of incredible people helped us make this possible. We are so honoured to have been able to save Cheddar and find her a good home," Red Lobster manager Mario Roque said.

Mosaic with 14,400 doughnuts breaks record

Arizona: An Arizona-based grocery store chain broke a Guinness World Record when it assembled 14,400 doughnuts into a mosaic of the store's 90th anniversary logo.

Bashas, a grocery store chain based in Chandler, broke the world record for largest doughnut mosaic (logo) when it assembled the 14,400 decorated doughnuts into the shape of a special logo designed for the chain's 90th anniversary.

Officials said the team assembled the mosaic at Basha High School and a Guinness World Records adjudicator measured the finished logo at 902 square feet, enough to break the previous record, which was set in Ukraine in 2012.

"We're celebrating our 90th anniversary, so it's 'go big or go home,'" Bashas spokeswoman Ashley Shick said.

REALLY...?

- The scent of roses, whether emanating from the garden plant, perfume, or rose water, is enchanting stuff. We humans love the scent of roses so much that we've been cultivating them for roughly 5,000 years. During 17th century, roses were in such tremendous demand, that rose water was actually used as legal tender in parts of Europe. Since ancient times, we've also understood that roses and rose by-products like rose water may actually contain medicinal and cosmetic properties, which made roses all the more sought after by everyone from royals like Cleopatra to just about everyone else who could obtain them.

MONSOON IS HERE; STAY SAFE, STAY HEALTHY
Monsoon is here, and with it comes several health issues. Respiratory diseases usually present with common flu-like symptoms with running nose, sore throat, feverish sensation and mild cough, which reduces with medications in a couple of days. In people with allergy/asthma and copd, it may cause an exacerbation with worsening breathlessness, wheezing, productive cough and tiredness. Disease occurrence in monsoon is due to temperature variations, dry/cold air exposure and preponderance or viral infections due to alteration of upper airway microbiome. The moist environment also promotes mold growth and Allergic symptoms. The covid disease has sensitised people to the importance of health and essential medications. But care should be taken if you have the following alarming symptoms like fever, cough, running nose and sore throat not reducing even after 2 to 3 days of medications; or/with the presence of extreme tiredness or/with the presence of breathlessness. It should warn us about the possibility of atypical infections and prompt you to consult your Physician / Pulmonologist. Better be safe and consult rather than ignore and regret.

Ban on photography at public offices

Facing outrage, Bommai Government revokes decision last midnight

Bengaluru, July 16 (Agencies)- A day after announcing a ban on all kinds of photography and videography inside public (Government) offices in Karnataka, the State Government has now revoked its decision after facing sharp criticism from the Opposition, social media influencers, general public and BJP members.

In a decision taken late on Friday night intervening Saturday, the ban has now been voided. The order was, however, withdrawn without citing any reasons and it was made public at 2 am on Saturday (July 16).

Earlier on Friday, a circular issued by the Department of Personnel and Administrative Reforms (DPAR) stated that the public will not be allowed to take pictures or film videos in the State Government offices.

As per the order, the decision was taken on the basis of a petition filed by the Karnataka State Government Employees Association wherein it alleged that people are trying to shoot videos inside offices with the intent of harassing and defaming the officials.

Keeping this in check, the worker's unions had requested to ban photography and videography to avoid any kind of "misuse" of the visuals and pictures that would hamper the reputation of the Government as well as some "female employees."

The order signed by the Under-Secretary of DPAR stated: "The Government has taken the matter into account and deemed that it was required and has ordered that the public will be restricted to take photos and videos in all Departmental offices." It is pertinent to note that the DPAR portfolio is held by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai.

Following the circular, the Bommai Government faced heavy backlash from the Opposition as well as the public. Several Opposition leaders claimed that the decision was taken to shield 'corruption' from the public eye and further provide protection to such Government employees.

Reacting to the same, Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah strongly opposed the move claiming that the Government is 'scared' and aims to hide its corruption. Similarly, the Karnataka Rashtra Samiti — whose videos filming corrupt officers and Policemen went viral — also took a dig at the Government and said that it is trying to use a "draconian and anti-people rule."

Past bans and withdrawals

In July 2021, the Government issued an order banning media persons from filming or photographing the corridors of Vidhana Soudha as this was coming in the way of the VIP movement. The order was withdrawn following outrage.

In September 2019, guidelines were issued saying only 150 journalists chosen by the Government will be allowed to enter the Vidhana Soudha, the Vikas Soudha and the Multistorey Building. This was also put on hold following backlash.

In July 2018, the Police imposed curbs on visitors and media personnel as directed by the then CM H.D. Kumaraswamy. The same year, the Government was forced to withdraw a circular that restricted the entry of journalists to the third floor of Vidhana Soudha where the CM and other Ministers sit.

Retd. KMF employee sets himself ablaze in car

Mysuru, July 16 (RK&BCT)- The man burned alive in the front seat of his flaming car was the victim of a bizarre and gruesome suicide, Police said. The incident was reported last afternoon in Bapujinagar behind a school within the Saraswathipuram Police Station limits.

Shivanna

The man has been identified as Shivanna (61), a retired employee of the Karnataka Milk Federation (KMF).

Shivanna hailed from Mangaluru and had taken voluntary retirement from KMF. He was staying in rented accommodation at Bapujinagar near a school.

Preliminary reports and investigations have revealed that Shivanna was suffering from various diseases and he took the extreme step depressed over the ailments. Police said that they are probing all angles.

Shivanna had appointed a woman in Mysuru as his caretaker. Yesterday afternoon, he took out his alto car and reached a secluded place behind the school at Bapujinagar. He then doused himself with either petrol or kerosene and committed suicide.

Seeing the burning car, the public alerted the Police who in turn informed the Fire Brigade. Though desperate attempts were made by the fire personnel to douse the fire, Shivanna had already died.

Police said that Shivanna also had some family issues and he had shifted to Mysuru from Mangaluru. He stayed away from his wife and children for many years.

Following the incident, the Saraswathipuram Police contacted Shivanna's wife and children but they refused to come to claim the last remains.

Shivanna's brothers and relatives are completing the formalities with the Police. The body has been shifted to Mysore Medical College and Research Institute (MMC&RI) mortuary.

Five red sanders logs being smuggled to Mysuru seized

Bengaluru, July 16 (Agencies)- The Kengeri Police unearthed an inter-State red sanders smuggling racket and arrested a 30-year-old man from Chittoor, and recovered 105 kg of red sanders worth Rs. 3.15 lakh from them.

The accused, identified as Chemala Chanchuraja, along with two of his associates, was driving to Mysuru when the Police on night rounds intercepted the car. The accused tried to speed away, but the Police gave a chase and nabbed Chanchuraju along with the car, while his associates managed to escape.

The Police recovered 105 kg of five red sander logs from the car. The probe revealed that he is part of the smuggling racket and was taking the consignment to Mysuru to give it to his customers, the Police said. The accused have been booked under various sections of the Forest Act.

Scooterist killed in self-accident

Mysuru, July 16 (RK&DM)- A 75-year-old scooterist died of injuries after the two-wheeler he was riding, skidded and fell down near Gun House Circle in the city.

Narasimhamurthy (75), residing near Shantala Theatre in Chamaraja Mohalla, is the deceased.

Narasimhamurthy, along with his wife Mangalagowri, was proceeding on a scooter to the city when the scooter reportedly skidded and fell down near Gun House Circle at about 1.45 pm yesterday. The seriously injured Narasimhamurthy was rushed to JSS Hospital, where he breathed his last in the early hours of this morning. Mysuru, July 16- Cricket is admired by most of the Indians and it is mostly due to the players involved in the sport. Unparliamentary Words

The Monsoon Session of the Parliament is scheduled to begin on July 18 and it will be a 'tame' and a 'lame' one. Why? Because of a book called 'Unparliamentary Expression', a compilation of words deemed unfit for use in Parliament, released by the Lok Sabha Secretariat.

Of course, Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla clarified that "no words had been banned," as claimed by the Opposition parties. He said the words included in the book are the words that have been expunged many times earlier in the House, so only those words are included in the booklet.

What he meant was that the words in the list have been expunged before, so why use them again and make him expunge them again? That is why they've been deemed as unparliamentary words.

While many words and phrases may be 'unparliamentary', many others on the list seem innocuous.

How can a Member of Parliament debate without words like 'false', 'eyewash', 'fabrication', 'hypocrisy', 'incompetent', 'lie', 'mislead', 'negligence' and 'partisan'? And what has the poor 'lollipop', a children's candy, done to deserve to be on this infamous list? Will we add more food items to this list because even eating 'peanuts' can be used in a derogatory manner to indicate incompetence and lethargy?

When debating, context is essential; hence words should not be banned. Instead, the usage of a particular word during a particular debate must be expunged.

In 1958 when a member equated the first Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru to Nathuram Godse, the man who murdered Mahatma Gandhi, the word 'Godse' was expunged and put on the 'unparliamentary' word list. So, a person's last name became unparliamentary!

But this became a problem in 2014 when Hemant Tukaram Godse became the MP from Maharashtra. The problem? How could Lok Sabha Speaker, the monitor of unparliamentary words, call this MP's name, 'Godse', which was deemed unparliamentary?! So, Lok Sabha Speaker Sumitra Mahajan in 2015 removed the word 'Godse' from the list of unparliamentary words.

Context is essential; that is why we must allow the expunging of certain words and phrases on a selective basis and not issue a blanket ban.

Blanket banning innocuous words will only make debates ineffective. MPs often use these common words during a debate, and the MPs' train of argument over an issue will be broken as some leaders will shout and object to using the banned word.

The debate loses steam, tangent topics come into play, and soon chaos will follow with each side shouting over the other.

Former President K.R. Narayanan once said a Legislature ought to be an exciting place reverberating with debates and arguments and scintillating with wit and humour. And it used to be so.

One of my favourite barbs in the Parliament is when Piloo Mody, an MP from Swatantra Party and brother of Russi Mody, who was the Chairman of TATA Steel, got irritated with Congress MP J.C. Jain, who kept interrupting him as he addressed the House. Finally, a frustrated Mody screamed, "Stop barking."

J.C. Jain immediately complained to the Chair, saying, "Sir, he is calling me a dog, it's unparliamentary."

Piloo Mody apologised and said, "Ok then, stop braying."

Surprisingly, Jain did not object, and it stayed on record!

Without humour, wit and intellect, there can be no debate or discussion in a political space because if you have wit and humour, then the ego will stay at the door, and debate will come to the fore. You will make space for the 'other view.'

Also, if your true intention is to debate sincerely, you will not use vulgar and crass words or phrases; you will do that only if you want to stall a debate. Also, it's time our leaders develop a little thick skin and guts like they do while facing corruption charges. I'm sure they can handle words like 'mislead', 'negligence 'and 'partisan.'

Finally, it's the prerogative of the Chair to expunge what is unparliamentary. But if even the most basic words are deemed unparliamentary without adding context, then MPs will start using alternative words or phrases.

Our nation's most famous wordsmith MP Shashi Tharoor will surely give trouble to the Chair this Monsoon Session. After all, he wrote a small book full of unusual words called 'Tharoorosaurus'. One can be sure that Shashi Tharoor and his team are already looking up outlandish and un-pronounceable words to use in place of the banned ones.

So while other members suffer from a bout of *'Lethologica', Tharoor will be well prepared and use words that will create quite the *'kerfuffle' in Parliament this Monsoon Session. We are sure his publisher, Penguin Books, can't wait to publish "Tharoorosaurus in the 'House': The Parliament Edition."

If one wants to battle in Parliament and win, one needs to have the two 'w's — Wit and Words. Also, you will excel if you have tone, articulation and voice quality. Modi has all the above traits; that is why he grabs the attention of his audience, as also Rahul Gandhi...

Except, while one mesmerises his audience, the other amuses. It's our misfortune that we live in a time when we desperately need a strong debating opposition party led by a witty and articulate opposition leader, but we have neither.

We need fierce debates in Parliament and words should flow, even the most aggressive, loud and foul. Expunge and expel, but let them speak. Let the people see and hear the kind of leaders they have elected because, in truth, we are not a true 'decent' democracy but a *kakistocracy.

PS: All words that twisted your tongue and racked your brain are thanks to Shashi Tharoor.

* Kakistocracy: A form of government in which the least qualified or most unprincipled individuals are in power.

* Kerfuffle: A disorderly outburst or disturbance.

* Lethologica: The affliction of not remembering the right word for the thought you are trying to express.

Tumakuru shepherds robbed in Mysuru, four arrested

R. Chethan

Mysuru, July 16 (RK&BCT)- Four persons, who had robbed shepherds from Tumakuru, have been arrested by Mysuru District Police. The criminals had assaulted the shepherds and snatched two sheep and mobile phones, said Mysuru Superintendent of Police R. Chethan.

Addressing a press conference at his office this noon, the SP said that Kariyanna, his father Kenchanappa, mother Giriyamma and relative Ranganatha, residents of Devarahatti village in Sira taluk of Tumakuru district had come to Mysuru with 500 sheep. They had rented out the vacant field owned by Puttaswamy at M.C. Halli in T. Narasipur taluk.

They had brought the animals from their village to sell them in Mysuru during this festival season and had put up tents to keep a watch on the sheep at night. Targeting them on the night of July 5 at 1.30 am, these four persons (names not revealed by Police) entered the fence and threatened the shepherds to part with a few animals.

When Kariyanna and others resisted them, the criminals assaulted them with improvised weapons. Later, they snatched away their mobile phones and carried two sheep on their bikes. A case was booked at the T. Narasipur Police Station.

A team was formed by Additional SP Nandini and Nanjangud Dy.SP Govindaraju, headed by T. Narasipur Inspector Krishnappa. The team based their investigation on scientific evidence like mobile phone location tracking and other means through technology and managed to arrest four persons.

One Pulsar bike and another Shine bike that were used for the crime were seized along with the two stolen sheep. The SP said that during interrogation, the accused confessed that they were involved in a bike theft case that was reported near T. Narasipur KSRTC Bus Stand Water Pump House.

The accused had used the same motorbike to steal the sheep after changing the vehicle's number plates. Other team members who were part of the arrest were Bhaskar, Ramesh, C. Prabhakar, K.G. Prabhakar, Madesha, Mahadevashetty, Manu, Madankumar and Malappa Somanal.

Consumer Commissions

Emphasising on the need to get rid of adjournments and to keep advocates away in cases when relief sought is less than Rs. 2 lakh, Dr. Shenoy also expressed doubts about the success of mediation, which is advocated by some quarters, as he finds little scope for an amicable settlement.

Dr. Shenoy also highlighted the provision of Consumer Protection Act, 1986, which makes provision for the establishment of Consumer Councils and other authorities for the settlement of consumer disputes and for matters connected therewith.

Quoting the Consumer Protection Act of 2019, that deals with matters relating to violation of consumer rights, unfair trade practices, misleading advertisements and all those circumstances which are prejudicial to consumer rights, Dr. Shenoy said that e-Commerce concept must be made use of for ending laborious process of filing cases and putting a full stop to unnecessary adjournments of hearings in Courts.

Referring to the suggestion made by Pushpa, a consumer activist, that lawyers must be kept, he said that in an IT era where e-Filing, Artificial Intelligence, Internet and such other means of communication are widely used, the Consumer Courts must come with up with procedures that are more consumer-friendly.

After hearing the suggestions that came up during the interaction, the meeting resolved to write to the President of Mysuru District Consumer Redressal Commission to make the Commission more consumer-friendly by introducing the latest concepts of consumer redressal. It also decided to write the letters en masse so that it can turn out into a movement of sorts in the coming days.

BIMS Department of Studies (DoS) in Business Administration Chairman Prof. D. Anand, MGP Treasurer K.V. Ramnath, Life Member Ashwini Ranjan, Members Dr. Sekhar Iyer, Pushpa and others were present.

Parking: A risky business

After the darshan of the Goddess, the devotees are made to alight the KSRTC buses near the busy main road and women, children and the elderly are forced to walk on the road to reach their vehicle parking place risking their lives.

Also, as there is no proper parking place for innumerable vehicles, many of them are parked at will and some of them are parked on both sides of the road that leads to T. Narasipur, its junction, Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Ashram School and the nearby park. As the car parking space is not sufficient enough to accommodate many four-wheelers, all of them park on the surrounding narrow roads, clogging them further. Even the Police are unable to regulate the traffic and parking here and as a result, crossing the road is a risky affair.

At the dedicated vehicle parking space, only one drinking water counter has been provided for thousands of devotees.

The entire place becomes a slush field if it rains. The pandals that have been set up by the District Administration for the devotees to take shelter in case of rains are not capable of withstanding heavy showers and wind. As a result, devotees are forced to drench themselves in the rain and board the free buses.

Lalitha Mahal Helipad was an ideal place to park

Even when MLA S.A. Ramdas was the District Minister, private vehicles were banned atop the Chamundi Hill on Ashada Fridays and Vardhanti. Parking arrangements and the free KSRTC bus facility were arranged from Lalitha Mahal Helipad.

The Helipad is far away from the main road and has a vast space. As such, there was no inconvenience to the devotees. Barricades were erected for the movement of devotees to reach the buses so that there is no chaos and confusion. Police could effectively control the crowd.

Some devotees said that the Lalitha Mahal Helipad was a better option to park than the present arrangements.

Sources said that following a Court order, the Helipad land belongs to the member of erstwhile Mysore royal family Pramoda Devi Wadiyar who has reportedly handed over the land to a private company on lease.

Though MLA Ramdas had raised the issue in the preliminary Ashada Friday meeting held under the leadership of Mysuru District Minister S.T. Somashekar, it is not clear if the authorities have contacted the private company requesting it to temporarily hand over the Helipad land for vehicle parking during Ashada Fridays.

Mysuru, July 16 (OSR) - The three-day AO Trauma Blended Course on 'Basic Principles of Fracture Management' began simultaneously at four places across India including Mysuru.

Post MS and DNB Orthopaedic Surgeons from different States are participating in the programme being held in two groups at four venues — Dehradun, Ranchi, Kolhapur and Mysuru — from July 15 to July 17.

City's noted Orthopaedician Dr. N. Nithyanand Rao of 'Nischira' is the Co-chairperson of this blended course being held at Jyothi Hall of Hotel Southern Star on Vinobha Road, Mysuru.

Dr. Sudhir Kumar of Shree Jagannath Hospital & Research Centre from Ranchi, is the Chairperson while Dr. Vidisha Kulkarni of GSK Ortho Hospital from Kolhapur and Dr. Sudhir Kumar Garg of Government Medical College & Hospital from Dehradun are the other two Co-chairpersons. This blended course is monitored and structured from AO Switzerland.

The AO (Arbeitsgemeinschaft für Osteosynthesefragen) or the Association of the Study of Internal Fixation (ASIF) was established by a group of Swiss General and Orthopaedic Surgeons in 1958 to strive to transform the contemporary treatment of fractures in Switzerland.

Online zoom discussions and teaching for three consecutive weekends were held at all the four centres in the country since last month and now again it is held in Mysuru, Dehradun, Ranchi and Kolhapur. The course comprises lectures, bone model workshops and intense interactive sessions.

The AO spends 60% of their funds for this education all over the world and the faculty for the ongoing course are experienced Surgeons from Manipal, Mangaluru and Bengaluru.

Goal of the course: It teaches fundamental principles and current concepts in the treatment of injuries, incorporating the latest techniques in operative fracture management. The AO Trauma Basic Principles Course is the initial step along the path of lifelong learning in the area of operative fracture management and the main focus of this course lies in the basic principles of fracture management.

Target participants: Doctors in surgical training but is also open to those who are interested in furthering their knowledge and skills in operative fracture management.

This blended course is composed of an online and a face-to-face (F2F) part. The online part starts 3 weeks before the F2F event, and each week consists of 2 distance learning modules followed by an online, synchronous small-group case discussion. Participants must complete the online component before attending the face-to-face course.

At the end of this course, participants will be able to discuss the concepts of stability, their influence on bone healing, and how to apply implants to achieve appropriate stability; Plan a treatment based on assessment, imaging, classification, and decision-making; Apply reduction techniques in fracture management with attention to the importance of the soft tissue; Evaluate and recognise special problems related to fractures in the immature skeleton, pelvic injuries, osteoporotic fractures, post-operative infection and delayed union and/or non-union among others.

AO is the premier innovator in surgical treatment of bone fractures and disorders. Innovation at the AO goes from bench to bedside, including basic research, product development, clinical validation and valorisation. Today AO has a global network of over 4,60,000 health care professionals. Each year AO offers over 775 educational events around the world, supported by nearly 7,000 faculty and attended by over 98,000 participants. It has around 18,500 Surgeon-Members working in the fields of trauma, spine, craniomaxillofacial, veterinary, and reconstructive surgery.

Apollo BGS Hospitals performs Endoscopic Gastro-Jejunostomy

A novel procedure for intestinal block performed for first time in Karnataka

Mysuru, July 16- Apollo BGS Hospitals, Institute of Gastrosciences, has performed a rare and novel Endoscopic Gastro-Jejunostomy procedure for the first time in Karnataka and in the city of Mysuru, helping a 49-year-old male patient recover from his ailment.

The availability of Endoscopic Ultrasound expertise under Dr. Rajkumar P. Wadhwa, Chief Gastroenterologist and HoD, Institute of Gastrosciences, Apollo BGS Hospitals, Mysuru, opened new doors for the patient that could avoid an open surgery.

The patient had a cancer of pancreas and underwent surgical resection (Whipple's pancreaticoduodenectomy) 5 years back. There was a recurrence of tumour which caused blockage of the intestinal loop that was also draining the bile.

Due to poor bile flow, patient developed infection in the bile (cholangitis) and pus collection in his liver. He had abdominal pain, distension and vomiting. He could not consume food orally.

As a routine, if such a scenario ensues, the option is to undergo open surgery to relieve the obstruction. Instead, he underwent the Endoscopic procedure.

Performing the novel procedure 'Endoscopic Ultrasound guided Gastro-Jejunostomy' Dr. Rajkumar Wadhwa said, "We placed a self-expanding metal stent between the stomach and a loop of small intestine. This opened up the pathway for drainage of bile and the intestinal secretions and as a result the patient's infection and jaundice resolved, he was able to eat normally and was discharged within 24 hours of the procedure."

N.G. Bharateesha Reddy, Vice-President & Unit Head, Apollo BGS Hospitals, Mysuru, informed that this is the first time the rare procedure Endoscopic Ultrasound (EUS) guided Gastro-Jejunostomy has been performed in Karnataka. "Very few centres in India have the expertise to perform this procedure, making us one among the select few hospitals in the country. This is a breakthrough achievement for us defining our advancement and progression in the Gastrosciences Excellence," he claimed.

Rajachandra releases Gouri Satya's book 'Kavyagalalli Wadeyaru'

No reforms in administration can be expected till a Chief Minister like Nalwadi comes to power: KBG

Mysuru, July 16 (SBD&DM)- The book titled 'Kavyagalalli Wadeyaru,' authored by senior journalist and Star of Mysore columnist Gouri Satya, was released by Rajachandra of Mysore royal family at a programme organised by Bharati Prakashana, Mysuru, in association with Parampare, Mysuru, at Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha on JLB Road in city last evening.

Speaking after releasing the book, Rajachandra said that the literature concerning Wadiyars perhaps was less known until the publication of writer Hayavadana Rao's work 'History of Mysore.' There is no match for this three-volume book on Wadiyar, he said, adding that writers and poets got good encouragement from the erstwhile Mysore rulers.

Recalling the contributions made by Mummadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar to Kannada literature, he said that the wife of Krishnaraja Wadiyar-I had written many books. "Gouri Satya's book is a collation of all the literary works and achievements of the erstwhile Mahrajas," he noted.

Stressing on the need for the Government to extend subsidy to literary works too, Rajachandra said that many writers are not getting any monetary benefit from their works. "Even publishers are finding it difficult to get back their investment. The Government, which is looking at only the cinema industry, should also take note of the plight of writers and publishers and extend subsidy to literary works too just like cinema. Extending subsidy and other benefits will be of huge help in promoting the Kannada Publication Industry," he observed.

Star of Mysore and Mysuru Mithra Founder-Editor K.B. Ganapathy (KBG), who spoke as the chief guest, said that a good and responsive administration cannot be expected until a person who has the qualities of Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar comes to power.

Noting that the erstwhile Mysore Mahrajas ruled for 550 years, Ganapathy said that no other rulers, be it Magadha, Maurya, Sultans, Moghuls, Vijayanagar, Shivaji, Chola, Pandyas etc., ruled for such a long period. Pointing out that a multitude of developmental works were taken up since the times of Mummadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar, he said that Chamaraja Wadiyar continued the legacy of Mysore Maharajas, by good governance and statesmanship.

"The good administration of Nalwadi inspired Mahatma Gandhi to call the then Mysore kingdom as 'Ramarajya.' Nalwadi always scouted for talent and he appointed able people for running the administration," KBG said while citing the examples of Sir M. Visvesvaraya and Sir Mirza Ismail. But despite the strong foundation laid by Nalwadi, the democratic Governments that came after independence failed to carry forward the rich legacy of Nalwadi, he rued.

Citing the example of the current status of Mandya's MySugar, Bhadravathi's Iron and Steel Factory, Mysuru's Sandalwood Oil Factory and such others built by Nalwadi in the pre-independence days, he said that the sorry state of affairs of all these monumental works of Nalwadi are glaring examples of how our present day rulers have failed in good administration.

Reiterating that a good administration cannot be expected until a leader like Nalwadi emerges, Ganapathy said that Gouri Satya's work reminds us of the glorious day of the erstwhile Mysore Maharajas and also their long history.

Asserting that he felt happy on reading the book, he said that he could learn more about the life and administration of Mysore Maharajas. Maintaining that the book is full of facts about our erstwhile rulers, he said that the book is a very useful one for learning about our Maharajas. Gouri Satya should continue writing such knowledgable and informative books, he added.

Referring to the hardships faced by publishers these days, Ganapathy recalled how he had to face some embarrassing moments 45 years ago when he wanted to start an English Daily in Mysuru, at a time when 40 newspapers were published from Mysuru and 80 from Bengaluru. "Some even sarcastically told him that who wants to read the 41st newspaper of Mysuru," he said adding that he retorted back by questioning how 40 newspapers were being published and what was their source of income.

Highlighting that Government advertisements and subsidies makes one to come up with publications, he said that such things are only a business and as such it is neither a profession nor a public service. Stating that the Government should extend subsidy to books written by writers such as Gouri Satya, he said that at the same time, the Government should exercise caution and regulate reckless publications.

The book's author Gouri Satya said that his book is a collection of his 20 articles published in Kannada Prabha newspaper over three decades ago and facts collected from other sources. "The book features the period right from Yaduraya to Jayachamaraja Wadiyar. It is regretting to note that not much people know about the rule of the erstwhile Mysore Maharajas. My intention is that the people of Mysuru, especially the current generation, should come to know of the great contributions of the Maharajas. I hope that the book fulfils this aspiration," he said.

Noted Gamakis K. Ramachandra and Dr. Jyothi Shankar introduced the book to the audience through a unique interpretation and Gamaka Vaachana. Earlier, Vidwan Manmohan rendered the invocation. Bharati Prakashana's B.N. Srinivas and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Gibbous

Pronunciation: JIB-us.
Meaning: Gibbous is most often used to describe a moon or planet that is seen with more than half, but not all, of the apparent disk illuminated.
Origin: The adjective gibbous has its origins in the Latin noun gibbus, meaning "hump." It was adopted into Middle English to describe rounded, convex things. While it has been used to describe the rounded body parts of humans and animals (such as the back of a camel) and to describe the shape of certain flowers (such as snapdragons), the term is most often used to describe the moon: a gibbous moon is one that is between half full and full.
Example: "Eventually, we lay our heads down on our pillows beneath a clear sky (no tent required) and a bright gibbous moon that left the canyon well illuminated. I never even unpacked a flashlight." —David Courtney

THE ODD WORD

Gangue

Worthless rock in which valuable metals occur.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Go out on a limb

Meaning: You use the expression 'Go out on a Limb' to indicate that you are supporting someone or something despite putting yourself at a potential disadvantage.
Origin: The term 'go out on a limb' originates from the practice of climbing trees, which people have been doing since the beginning of time. The expression was first used in a figurative sense in America during the late 19th century. An early example from an October, 1895 issue of the Steubenville Daily Herald reads: "We can carry the legislature like hanging out a washing. The heft of the fight will be in Hamilton County. If we get the 14 votes of Hamilton, we've got 'em out on a limb. All we've got to do then is shake it or saw it off."
Example: "I'm going to go out on a limb and approve his request for additional research funding."

QUOTE BOX

You've got to go out on a limb sometimes because that's where the fruit is. —Will Rogers
